Dear Vi:

We have been working this past year on a complete overhaul of the WNIN website, one that has taken us a bit longer than planned and has become really a ground up overhaul.

Principal was instrumental in giving us the strategic direction that we needed to focus our staff on content, and worked with us all to create a new site that embraces community, which is WNIN's new vision and mission.

WNIN's goal was to utilize the latest web technologies, which Principal provided for us. This was truly a partnership between our two companies, with a tremendous amount of conversation, providing strategic advice on internet technologies, and how to best utilize them on the site.

We are continuing to work with Principal and see our partnership in attaining our goals as very successful.

Best regards,
